THE RIGHTS TEAM

Peta Nightingale
Contracts, Rights and Translations
Director

peta@bookouture.com

I joined Bookouture in February 2017. We are now almost 5-times the size as a company. Bringing rights-selling in-house in 2021 was a key factor in growing this vital part of our business, and we have significantly increased our sub-rights revenue by bringing an expert focus on selling Bookouture titles only. We have also entered the German market through the launch of Bookouture Deutschland, translating and selling direct to German readers.

Richard King
Rights Director

richard@bookouture.com

I joined Bookouture in 2021 after 10 years in the Rights team at Orion, where I sold a wide variety of rights, including translation and film/TV rights, across the entire Orion list. Now Bookouture has brought our rights business in-house, I am the go-to person for film/TV rights across the Bookouture catalogue and for translation rights in the following languages:

Czech, Danish, Finnish, French, German, Hungarian, Icelandic, Italian, Lithuanian, Norwegian, Portuguese, Russian, Slovak, Spanish, Swedish and Ukrainian.

Saidah Graham
Rights and Contracts Executive

saidah@bookouture.com

I joined the Bookouture team as Rights and Contracts Executive in 2020, after 3 years in the Rights team at Bonnier Books. I manage the sale of large print and audio rights as well as translation rights in the following languages:
Albanian, Arabic, Bulgarian, Croatian, Chinese, Estonian, Greek, Hebrew, Indonesian, Japanese, Korean, Latvian, Macedonian, Romanian, Serbian, Slovenian, Thai and Vietnamese.

Death is just the start...

Hidden Scars – Angela Marsons

Angela always explores dark and fascinating topics in every one of her books and Hidden Scars is no exception with Angela tackling the theme of conversion therapy and the prejudices that exist within families that can drive loved ones apart.

Still recovering from a near-death experience from her last case, Detective Kim Stone is supposed to be easing back into work but can't stop herself from taking charge when she sees the investigation of a young boy's death mishandled from the start.

Book 17 in the internationally bestselling crime series, which has now sold a staggering 5 million copies in English alone.

Catch Her Death – Wendy Dranfield

Another blistering crime thriller from one of our best reviewing crime series. Catch Her Death truly sucks you in and spits you out the other side as a serial killer picks up speed in the days leading up to Christmas.

Detective Madison Harper is on the trail of a killer targeting single mothers with sons, but as she closes in on the killer, she starts to believe it could be the same killer her special agent father spent a lifetime chasing. Has he followed her here to Colorado? And could Madison be next, as a single mother with a son herself?

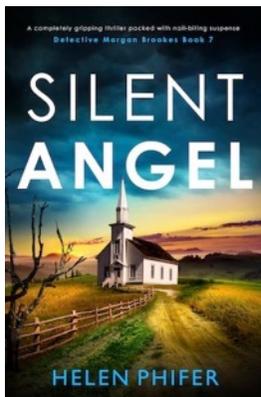

As a blizzard sweeps in, wreaking havoc on the investigation, Madison hits the same dead ends her father did all those years ago. But when her closest friend goes missing, Madison must dive into the mind of this twisted soul and risk it all to stop another heart-shattering tragedy. Will she make it in time?

Angela Marsons is Bookouture's top selling author. The Kim Stone series is sold in 30 languages and has reached #1 in UK and Italian bestseller charts.

Silent Angel – Helen Phifer

Helen Phifer's UK-set procedural thriller series featuring Morgan Brookes is inventive and addictive and one of the top-selling series across our whole list, with now almost 500,000 copies sold. Perfect for fans of MJ Arlidge and Angela Marsons, each book can be read as a standalone.

This 7th book takes Morgan away from her usual patch to a windswept island off the Cumbrian coast of North East England, and eventually circles back to an entanglement between the killer and one of her own team.

The drama is pitch perfect and the eventual unmasking of the killer will satisfy every crime junkie out there!

The Girls on Chalk Hill – Alison Belsham

From the international bestselling author of The Tattoo Thief (Trapeze, 2018) comes a brand new serial killer thriller series, featuring the brilliant and complex Detective Lexi Bennett.

One of triplets, Lexi was abducted with her two sisters as a child. Two of them escaped... and one of them was lost. Her need for justice has driven Lexi and led her to work with the FBI's specialist serial killer unit in the US. Now back in her home country, she's leading a new homicide team in Canterbury in South East England and contending with new shocking cases.

In this first novel, Lexi discovers the bodies of two sisters... triplets like her. Where is the third sister? Is this a message? Lexi has to race against time to save the missing girl while confronting her own memories.

Don't look now

Her Deadly Promise – Carla Kovach

This is the twelfth book in the Detective Gina Harte series, in which each book can read as a hooky standalone. With over 500,000 copies sold across the series, readers love this dark and thrilling UK-set crime series. The first in the series, The Next Girl, has sold over 200k copies and spent five weeks at the top of the UK Apple charts on publication. Perfect for fans of Clare Mackintosh and MJ Arlidge.

Church Street is a quiet corner of suburbia. But behind the door of number 8 lies the body of Billie, a young mum who just took her last breath...

When the police find Billie's phone, they uncover an explosive message from an anonymous number. I want you dead and I'm going to kill you tonight. Who sent the message? And who will be next?

Only Girl Alive – Holly S. Roberts

Holly S. Roberts is a USA Today bestselling author and we're thrilled to be launching her first crime series. Set in Utah, this series delves into the world of Mormon communities and the secrets that happen behind closed doors. The series is headed by Eve Bennet, a detective who grew up within a Mormon family and was kidnapped by her own mother to break her free from the restrictions of her faith.

Eve is still coming to terms with her own past in the first book and her nemesis, her non-biological brother Aaron, who is now a town elder, is her constant antagonist. As she investigates the murders of four members of one family, Eve is haunted by her own past but she must put all of that aside to find the killer before anyone else is murdered.

The Snowstorm – Triona Walsh

An instant hit this Frankfurt, with auctions in multiple territories including a major 6-way auction in Germany. This atmospheric locked room thriller is our lead title and not to be missed.

On a windswept island off the west coast of Ireland, six lifelong friends gather for New Year's Eve. It has been ten years since the accident that tore them apart, when one of their group drowned in the wild Atlantic. Tonight, they are reuniting to honour the anniversary of the tragic death – but one of them never turns up...

A storm sweeps in and the body is found at the bottom of a jagged cliff. With the brutal blizzard completely cutting them off from the mainland, there is a murderer amongst them – and no way to leave.

New Author!

The Stay-at-Home Mother – Nicole Trope

Have you ever looked through the windows of the house across the street? Have you ever had a conversation with a neighbour, and they gave a little too much away? Have you ever trusted them with your children, or your secrets, or your own home? This supremely gripping novel explores our fascination with the people who live next door, and what really goes on behind closed doors.

From the Kindle bestselling author of The Family Across the Street and The Foster Family comes another triumph of a standalone psychological thriller. With a fantastically ominous atmosphere, a beyond-compelling plot, more twists and turns than a rollercoaster, and characters that get well and truly under your skin, The Stay-at-Home Mother is perfect for fans of Lisa Jewell and Adele Parks.

Keep your friends close...

Best Friends Forever – Shannon Hollinger

I emerge from the trees, drenched in sweat, my voice lost as I take in the scene in front of me. The blood. The body. Emma's eyes meet mine for a second. "It was an accident," she whispers.

This outrageously twisty and dark psychological thriller combines the best of intricate friendship dramas and family secrets with a hot, Florida setting and an unsolved murder from years ago. But the main draw is the claustrophobia that you feel when reading it – the town, where everyone knows each others' secrets, is in the middle of a heatwave that seems to never end, lies upon lies are destroying families and friendships, and the unsolved murder might be one of a series of murders, by one of the main characters. It's a fantastic, plot-twist-a-minute tale for fans of Freida McFadden and Paula Hawkins.

The Daughter-in-Law – Shalini Boland

From the moment Caroline meets her new mother-in-law, Lilian, in her beautiful country house, it's clear she's not welcome. And after Caroline learns about her husband's previous wife, now dead, a woman who she knew nothing about, she begins to wonder what happened to the wife who came before her.

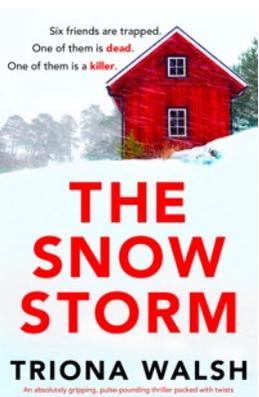

Then the accidents start to happen. Small things to start with, like a spilled glass of wine, a dropped birthday cake, all made to look like Caroline's fault. But then Lilian accuses Caroline of something terrible – so terrible that Caroline starts to wish that she had never met her handsome clever husband at all. But Caroline has secrets too...

Shalini Boland has sold over a million copies since her first publication with Bookouture in November 2017 and is a USA Today Bestseller several times over.

The Engagement – Samantha Hayes

You thought you had escaped him. Until he proposed to your daughter.

'I want you to meet Jack,' Belle says, bouncing up and down with excitement. 'We're engaged!'

I grab my husband's arm to steady myself as my heart kicks into a thunderous gallop. Fear prickles my skin as I remember what he did. How I only just escaped. All the lies I've had to tell since.

I have to stop this. If I don't, I'll lose everything...

From an Amazon #1 bestselling author comes her most intense thriller yet. Fans of The Lisa Jewell and Paula Hawkins will be totally hooked!

The Housemaid's Secret – Freida McFadden

"Don't go in the guest bedroom." A shadow falls on Douglas Garrick's face as he touches the door with his fingertips. "My wife... she's very ill." As he continues showing me their incredible penthouse apartment, I have a terrible feeling about the woman behind closed doors. But I can't risk losing this job—not if I want to keep my darkest secret safe...

The explosive and shockingly twisty SEQUEL to the international sensation The Housemaid, now sold in 30 territories and optioned for film by Hidden Pictures in partnership with Lionsgate following a major Hollywood auction.

Millie is back in book 2, The Housemaid's Secret, which is sure to be the psych thriller event of 2023!

...and your enemies closer

The Mother-in-Law – Karen King

Fan of psychological thrillers will be totally gripped right from the opening scene of this novel – where a young bride has her wedding sabotaged, very possibly by her brand new mother-in-law.

An absolutely thrilling and gripping psychological suspense novel about a mother's borderline-obsessive love for her son, a young bride who is fiercer than she looks, and a whole host of family secrets.

Perfect for fans of Shalini Boland, Shari Lapena, and The Woman in the Window.

The Wife Who Risked Everything – Ellie Midwood

Berlin, 1943: “No matter what happens, no matter what they do to me, they will never stop me loving you,” he said, placing a kiss on my tear-stained cheek.

Ellie Midwood returns with another heartbreaker, this time bringing to life the atrocities that the Jewish community faced in Berlin. Based on a true story, this stunning WW2 page-turner shows that, in the face of evil, love is power, courage is infectious—and the voices of many will not be silenced. It's beautifully written, with stunning prose that takes your breath away, and characters that you care deeply about. This is historical fiction at its finest.

Ellie's current titles have sold over 220,000 copies, with over 7.1 million pages read on Kindle Unlimited, and have sold into 18 languages and counting.

All the Courage We Have Found – Carly Schabowski

France, 1942: When Kasia is told she will be smuggled out of Poland to work as a radio operator with a French Resistance group, she plans to make the dangerous journey across the border alone. But when she meets a mute girl who she names Elodie, in a ghetto in Warsaw on the eve of her departure, she reminds Kasia so strongly of someone she loved – with one brown eye, and one green – that she knows she can't leave her behind, no matter the risk...

A heart-breaking and gripping wartime novel about one woman's decision to risk everything to save as many people as she can from the Nazis. Perfect for fans of Ellie Midwood and Kristin Hannah.

They risked everything

The Maid's Secret – Shari J. Ryan

The Maid's Secret is the ultimate story of forbidden love. A Jewish aristocrat and a gypsy maid from different worlds. Yet when Ben and Mila meet, Mila serving Ben's family in their opulent estate in Czechoslovakia, their hearts tell another story. They risk everything for one another – their family, their home, their reputation – and the only thing that can tear them apart is the Nazis.

This novel is devastatingly romantic and will have readers believing in fairytales and that if you have love, you can survive anything. It's a book about love conquering hate, prejudice and evil – equal parts heartbreaking and heartwarming.

Fans of The Tattooist of Auschwitz, The Choice, and Orphan Train will be utterly gripped by this heartbreaking and unputdownable tale.

Option Publishers: Dobrovský (Czechia), Newton Compton (Italy), City (France), House of Books (Holland), Zara (Denmark), IPC (Hungary), Sofoklis (Lithuania)

The American Wife – Chrystyna Lucyk-Berger

A gripping and page-turning historical novel about courage, friendship and impossible choices.

This story follows Kitty Larson, an American wife of an Austrian diplomat living in Vienna in 1942, who realises her powerful position means she must choose between saving her Jewish friend from the Nazis or betraying her diplomat husband.

The first novel in the Diplomat's Wife trilogy, which will continue Kitty's gripping story in which her character's trajectory from frivolous socialite to vengeful resistance operative will have readers completely hooked.

Perfect for fans of Kristin Hannah and Kate Hewitt.

The Silence Before Dawn – Amanda Lees

This is the first in a series of 7 romantic and addictive books set during WW2 based on true stories, about a group of plucky female undercover agents who risk everything to save the men they love.

This first book features Marianne, an English spy who has been sent into Nazi-occupied France to run a network of resistance fighters. But when her fiancé is taken prisoner, she must rescue him before the Nazis realise they've captured the only man in the whole of France who knows the names of every undercover agent on the ground. Enlisting the help of fellow female agents, she must undertake the mission of her life...

The Silence Before Dawn has brilliant world-building and sympathetic characters, a mission that leaves you breathless and a love affair to die for.

We Fly Beneath the Stars – Suzanne Kelman

1942, Europe: based on the true story of a female-only bomber battalion, this is a totally unforgettable story about sacrifice, sisterhood and a love that transcends war.

Underestimated by their superiors, sisters Nadia and Tasha find themselves in airplanes barely fit to fly, being sent on perilous missions with little hope of return. But before long their battalion is being nicknamed 'the Night Witches' by the Nazis, their ownership of the skies second to none. But danger is up in the storm clouds with them...

Sometimes a novel comes along that sweeps you up so high you barely have a moment to catch your breath. From the first page, readers will be flying with these incredible sisters, whose powerful bond and extraordinary courage is a story that has been waiting to be told.

Murder most mysterious

Betty Rowlands

Betty Rowlands burst on to the crime scene in her mid-sixties by winning the Sunday Express / Veuve Clicquot Crime Short Story of the Year Competition. Her success continued with her bestselling Melissa Craig mysteries featuring a crime writer who solves mysteries in the Cotswolds. Her next series featured scene-of-crime officer Sukey Reynolds, and both went on to become hugely bestselling series after republication by Bookouture in 2018 and 2019. Both series are absolute classics of the mystery genre and could be the jewel in the crown for publishers looking for a long-running cosy series.

Betty is classic cosy crime at its very best: Cotswold setting, devious amateur sleuthing, cats, crumpets, dastardly thieves and murderers, scandalous crimes and puzzling mysteries that befuddle the close-knit communities they are set in.

Great Sexpectations – Kristen Bailey

What's wrong with a little bit of faking it?

After Josie Jewell got dumped by her ex, she hasn't let herself get close to anyone. But then she meets Cameron at a Halloween party, when he turns up in the same Ghostbusters costume as her, and they have so much in common. He seems almost too good to be true.

And maybe he is... Because there's one teeny tiny problem as Josie falls madly in love. Cameron has no idea that Josie lives with her ex-porn star parents, or that she works for their sex toy empire... After her ex broke up with her because of the family business, Josie decides to tell a little white lie.

It's just a matter of time until the truth comes out. But what if she's not the only one who's keeping secrets?

It's funny you should say that...

Bootcamp for Broken Hearts – Joanna Bolouri

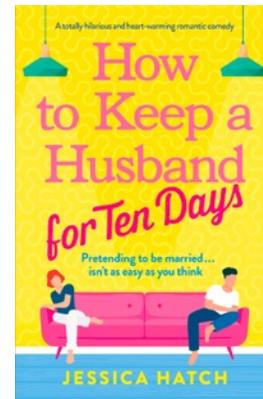

Nora is totally happy single. The men in her life have all been selfish, cheating liars and being alone is far easier than risking a broken heart again – for her and for her daughter. She's only going to Romance Reboot – a posh 'singles' bootcamp at a castle in the Scottish Highlands – to keep her sister quiet.

But surrounded by tumbling waterfalls and sweet birdsong, Nora can't deny she's starting to relax. Even better, she finds a friend in fellow guest Will Thomson. Everybody else hears their laughter and thinks they're falling for one another, but Nora knows she's safe – he's just here on a research trip, and there's no spark between them, whatsoever. And Will is just another cheater-in-the-making like all the others, isn't he?

Joanna's romcoms have sold in 18 languages to date. This is Joanna's first book with Bookouture.

How to Keep a Husband for Ten Days – Jessica Hatch

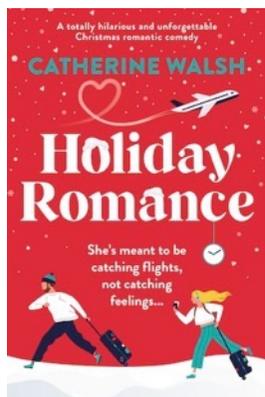

When Lina and her husband's oldest friends unexpectedly come to stay, the couple can think of only one thing: pretend they're not getting divorced so the four of them can have a nice time together one last time.

Cue orchestrated cuddles, matching pyjamas and – worst of all – sharing the same bed again, heartbreak soon turns to hilarity as Lina and Brown struggle to appear happily married in front of their friends. But as they are forced to spend more time with one another, Lina begins to wonder whether the spark has really fizzled out after all...

Jessica Hatch writes humorous women's fiction with quirky, high-concept "what if" scenarios and then drops her characters into them, escape room-style, to see what happens!

Feeling Festive

Santa, Please Bring Me a Boyfriend – Sophie Randal

For Rowan, putting her heartache behind her is the biggest obstacle this Christmas, so her friends arrange an advent calendar to help get her spark back. And while the gifts make Rowan feel festive – glittery bubble bath, anyone? – what she really wants to unwrap is the guy who delivers them, Alex. With his soft Scottish accent, infectious grin and blue eyes as twinkly as fairy lights, Rowan wouldn't mind finding him in her stocking...

But this Christmas isn't just about romance. As always with Sophie's books the narrative is multi-layered and also covers the unconditional love between mother and daughter and the messy love between exes and co-parents.

Santa, Please Bring me a Boyfriend is relatable, and full to the brim of warmth, humour and Christmas cheer.

Sophie's books have sold over 700,000 copies.

Christmas at Red Robin Cottage – Sue Roberts

Snow is falling on Little Newdale. But at Red Robin Cottage, Sarah is feeling far from merry and bright... Since her marriage ended, there's nothing she wants more than a peaceful festive season filled with carols and mince pies. But Sarah's teenage daughter Ellie is feeling the winter blues, faced with spending the holiday without her father.

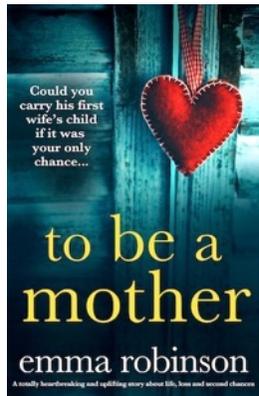

Desperate to bring home some seasonal cheer and make this a Christmas to remember for Ellie, Sarah follows the trail of fairy lights into the snow-covered village. Among the holiday crowds she finds herself gazing into the soft brown eyes of a handsome stranger whose smile is startlingly familiar. It couldn't really be her childhood sweetheart, Luke, could it?

Grab a blanket and a mug of cocoa and curl up by the fire with this completely addictive festive romance.

His Secret Daughter – Melissa Wiesner

We can't stress enough how incredibly poignant and devastating this amazing book is. When Noah, a husband and father of a teenager, is in a terrible accident, his wife rushes to the hospital: and finds a little girl there too who looks just like her husband. Is this his secret child? Confronting the multitude of secrets in her husband's past, our protagonist questions everything she knows and must make some impossible decisions about her own family, and about an innocent little girl who has nowhere else to go. Melissa has such an incredible talent for exploring tragic themes with a light touch. Readers will adore her writing and feel so immersed and invested in these wonderful characters.

What would you do?

When We Were Innocent – Kate Hewitt

Kate's been writing contemporary women's fiction and historical WW2 fiction for Bookouture for some time and this book delivers in both genres – with a modern-day heroine discovering a devastating secret about her elderly father relating to WW2.

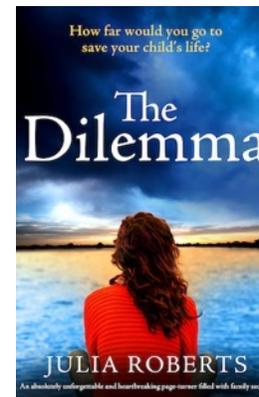

Libby Trent's life changes the day she's contacted by a government official asking questions about a man named Hans Brenner, a Nazi who escaped Germany after the Second World War. A war criminal guilty of the most heinous deeds. And the man they suspect is Libby's own father... They need more evidence for the trial to go ahead, and Libby's the only one who can help them find it.

It's downright incredible. At the level of Jodi Picoult at her very best, this book deserves to be a massive bestseller and we anticipate it being a breakthrough book for Kate.

The Fury of Kings – R.S. Moule

This is epic fantasy at its finest. A kingdom teeters on the edge of civil war, as alliances between powerful families break. A mysterious magical disaster looms. In the dangerous game to come, every character – fighter, noble or thief – must choose their loyalties and make painful, powerful choices.

In the shadow of Eryispek – a mountain said to have no summit – the kingdom of Erland has known peace for fifteen years.

But when King Hessian's only son is murdered, Erland is plunged into crisis. The new heir is a spoiled fool, but his mother will stop at nothing to secure his claim. The king's mind is failing, and he grows more volatile every day.

War seems inevitable. And none will escape the coming storm.

It was Andrick Barrelbreaker, the king's bastard brother, whose victories placed Hessian on the throne. As chaos threatens, Andrick must leave his family behind and take up arms once more, for a king he barely recognizes.

Andrick's children Orsian and Pherri must also choose their paths. Orsian has always dreamed of fighting beside his father, but now he must face the reality of war. Pherri is haunted by very different dreams – of snow and death and the mountain. To understand them, she must unlock strange new abilities.

R.S. Moule's remarkable debut combines the grit and heroism of Anthony Ryan with the intricate, ever-shifting politics of George R.R. Martin in a rich new series perfect for fantasy fans.

True Crime

American Mother – Gregg Olsen

From the #1 bestselling author of international sensation If You Tell comes the shocking true-crime story of a mother and wife, her disturbing family secrets and how she became a cold-hearted killer.

At 5.02 pm on June 5th, 1986, a call came into the local sheriff's office in the small town of Auburn, Washington State from Stella Nickell. Her husband Bruce was having a seizure. When the officers arrived on the scene, Bruce was already dead.

Forensics identified that Bruce had consumed headache pills laced with cyanide and in an attempt to cover her tracks, Stella saw to it that a stranger would also become her next victim of the cyanide-tainted painkillers.

What would drive a seemingly normal outgoing and popular mum and wife to kill?

As the investigation began to unfold, Stella's daughter Cynthia notified federal agents of her mother's crimes. But she didn't reveal everything ...

An extraordinary and absolutely gripping true-crime story rooted in the secrets of a poor and troubled family, the complex relationship between a mother and daughter and the ambition of one woman to live the American Dream whatever the cost.

Starvation Heights – Gregg Olsen

In this chilling true story of deception and murder, Gregg Olsen brings us inside the disturbing world of Doctor Linda Hazzard who would stop at nothing to achieve her dream of creating the most renowned sanatorium in the world – but ended up a convicted serial killer.

In 1911 two wealthy British heiresses, Claire, and Dora Williamson, arrived at an unfinished sanatorium in the forests of Olalla, Washington to undergo the revolutionary "fasting treatment" of Doctor Linda Burfield Hazzard. It was supposed to be a holiday for the two sisters, but within a month of arriving at what the locals called 'Starvation Heights', the women underwent brutal, evasive procedures and became emaciated shadows of their former selves.

They believed it would improve their health, but one sister would never survive.

How did Hazzard persuade the sisters to undergo such monstrous treatments? And why, on Claire's deathbed, did Dora, near to death herself, still hold such an extreme belief in Hazzard's methods?

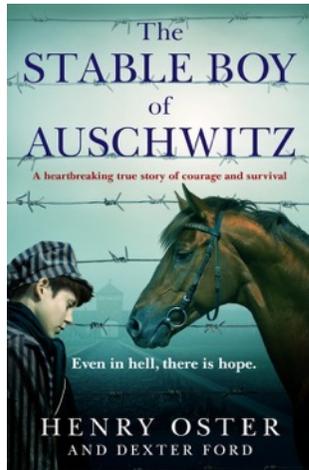

This fascinating and shocking account of the female serial killer dubbed the 'Starvation Doctor' has already been optioned for film by screen writer and actor Tracy Letts (The Woman in the Window, Killer Joe).

"A fascinating turn-of-the-century story of medical malpractice and murder. If you liked The Alienist, you'll find Starvation Heights all the more gripping because this story is true."

Michael Connelly

Inspiring Memoir

The Stableboy of Auschwitz – Henry Oster

A courageous and heart-wrenching memoir by Holocaust survivor Henry Oster, co-authored by Dexter Ford, originally self-published as The Kindness of the Hangman, now republished following the author's death for a wider audience.

Henry was just five years old when Adolf Hitler took power in 1933. One of the 2,011 Jews who were rounded up by the Gestapo and deported from Cologne to the Łódź ghetto, and from there to Auschwitz-Birkenau. Here, in Auschwitz, Henry performed forced labour in the stables, where horses were bred for the German war machine. Henry had to tend his mares, Mutti, Olga, and the stallion, Barbarossa from dawn into the night. It was back-breaking labour, but Henry clung to the belief that if he made himself hard to replace, he might just stay alive.

Eventually Henry was liberated in 1945, having been moved to the Buchenwald camp, and he was one of only 18 German-speaking Jewish boys to emerge alive from the concentration camps after the war. Henry would later join his extended family in Los Angeles with no money, no English and no education – yet he rose from the ashes and became an optometrist, with his own practice, and would also speak at schools, colleges and museums about his experiences during the war.

Here we have the heart-wrenching and inspiring true account of a little boy who, against incomprehensible odds, after losing almost everything a human can lose, survived to tell his story.

Windward Family – Alexis Keir

'It took two decades for me to go in search of the parts of myself I had left behind in the Caribbean. What ghosts were waiting for me there? There was a thick, black journal in my flat, stuffed with letters, postcards, handwritten notes, and diary entries. For the first time in years, I opened it.'

Twenty years after living there as a child, Alexis Keir returns to the Caribbean island of Saint Vincent. He is keen to uncover lost memories and rediscover old connections. But he also carries with him the childhood scars of being separated from his parents and put into uncaring hands.

Inspired by the embrace of his relatives in the Caribbean, Alexis begins to unravel the stories of others who left Saint Vincent, searching through diary pages and newspaper articles, shipping and hospital records, and faded photographs.

From the Caribbean to England, North America and New Zealand, from windswept islands to the wet streets of London, and spanning generations of travelers from the 19th century to the present, he uncovers tales of exploitation, endeavor and bravery of those who had to find a home far away from where they were born.

Windward Family is Alexis's breakout book, an unmissable read for fans of memoirs on identity and belonging, as well as literary fiction readers who will adore his stunning, lyrical writing style. In 2021 Alexis was shortlisted for The Cecile de Jongh Literary Prize.

How sharing the load makes a happy family

PAUL MORGAN-BENTLEY

The Equal Parent – Paul Morgan Bentley

As Head of Investigations at The Times, Paul Morgan-Bentley specialises in undercover work and in-depth reporting and is also an advocate for men properly sharing responsibility for caring for their children. In The Equal Parent, he shares his own personal journey and examines why society and modern culture still need to undergo a major transformation in order to encourage and support equal parenting.

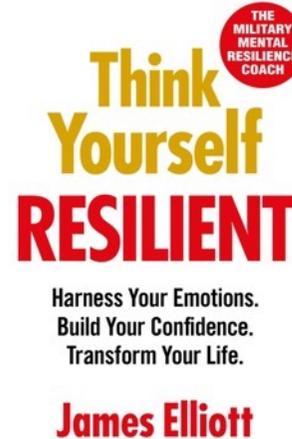

Through first-person interviews with Catherine Cho, Nils Bergman, Malala's father – Ziauddin Yousafzai – Freddy McConnell, along with insights from an anthropologist, psychologist, and neuroscientist, Paul explores everything from how hospital maternity wards are not designed for modern families, why skin-to-skin contact is scientifically proven to be vital in ensuring fathers bond with their baby, why parental leave policies must change and how equal parenting plays an important part in a child's development.

With research and case studies along with Paul's own unique story, The Equal Parent exposes the myths about fatherhood and shows us how we can change the conversation about what it means to be an equal parent and why it's so important.
